Brittney McCoy appeared with Kelly Strnad, a representative of Southside Fuzzy's. Strnad is aware of McCoy's history and is in contact with McCoy's Probation Officer. McCoy has been working at Southside Fuzzy's since March 1, 2021. McCoy currently works as a waitress for the establishment. Strnad stated she would like McCoy to have a Bartender License, so she can work without herself, the owner, or anyone else having to be present. Strnad stated McCoy is an extremely good worker. Ald. Rodriguez asked if McCoy was denied a Bartender License, if she would still be employed by Southside Fuzzy's. Strnad stated McCoy would still be employed, she would work daytime hours, instead of evening hours. Strnad stated it would be helpful having the younger employees on at night. Ald. Johnson asked about McCoy's rough patch. McCoy stated due to COVID-19 she lost her job, her car, and her apartment and went into a panic. McCoy stated she has collected herself, she is getting her license back, has a home and currently surrounded by good people rather than being alone.

Deputy Chief Angle from the Waukesha Police Department stated the most recent incidents are from 2019 into 2020. One of his bigger concerns is what type of support system McCoy currently has, as far as treatment and if she is seeing anyone regularly. Deputy Chief Angle stated reviewing reports, any contact with the Police Department, McCoy was in crisis. He said more than anything he wants to see the structure McCoy has that is going to support her. Deputy Chief Angle stated looking at past offenses going back to 2019, they range from different types of Possessions and OWIs. If McCoy does not have the right support structure, he would not support it and if she does have the right support structure, he would support it. McCoy stated she goes to group counseling at least twice a month and is currently looking for a personal counselor.

Ald. Miller asked McCoy if she is sober. McCoy stated she has been sober for two months.

A motion was made by Miller, seconded by Johnson, to approve the Bartender Application for Brittney McCoy provided McCoy will stick with her plan. The motion carried by the following vote:

Aye: 4 - Cummings, Miller, Johnson and Rodriguez

Absent: 1 - D. Lemke
