Hi Charlie,

2901 Rocky Creek

The one on Bayberry is a ranch house, where his house it built farther back then ours and same amount of room in the back that was built by same builder. There seems to be a precedence for sunrooms in the neighborhood. With my wife's medical condition being the worst in the winter season we are hoping this will help her out having more natural sunlight during the hard winter months as our house does not get much sunlight. Our neighbors to the side and behind us I'm sure would sign a letter saying they have no concerns on their end with us building the sunroom if you think that would help too? Thanks for your recommendations in moving forward with this project.
