Subject Property Identification:

The appraiser has viewed all readily accessible areas of the dwelling (and any other building structure located on the property). This complete visual inspection is not intended to be the same depth or for the same purpose as a home inspection. The appraiser has viewed the property solely for valuation purposes and to observe property characteristics that a typical purchaser would consider in their decision making process, as well as those items outlined in the assumptions and limited conditions and certification to this appraisal. Personal property was not included in the appraised value.

-Sources of Information:

The appraiser has gathered information from public records, the Multiple Listing Service, full exterior and interior viewing of the subject property, and a drive by viewing of neighborhood and comparable properties. When conflicting information has been discovered, the sources deemed most reliable have been used.

• GP Residential: Site - Highest and Best Use
The appraiser has concluded the highest and best use of the property, as improved, to be its current use. This opinion is supported by the fact that the improved property is physically possible (see improvements description and pictures), is a legal use (see site section/zoning), is financially feasible (see sales comparison approach for sales of similar properties) and is considered to be the maximally productive use (improvements contribute positively to the site and it would not be feasible to change them to a more productive use without substantial capital improvement).
